Please replace the paragraph beginning on page ~~27~~<sup>35</sup>, line ~~21~~<sup>3</sup>, of the Detailed Description of the Specification as currently amended with the following paragraph:

Referring now to Figures 14G through 14M2, illustrating how information and transaction regarding a multitude of interested thumbnails can be retreated and displayed. As illustrated in Figure 14G, when the cursor is moved on top of a particular thumbnail 172 in a row or a column, the scrolling of that row/column stops, and the relative position of that particular thumbnail in the total number of thumbnails in that row/column-category, along with a brief high-level description 174 of the object pictured by the particular thumbnail is displayed adjacent to the thumbnail. When the cursor is moved away from the thumbnail and the pausing row/column, the high-level description 174 disappears, and the automatic scrolling resumes. When the viewer decides that the object is of interest from the high level description 174, the viewer "clicks" the input device while the cursor is rested on the thumbnail of the object. A larger and more detailed picture of the object along with detailed descriptions and other links to further information and relevant commands (such as buying, selling, or contact seller commands) is displayed in a sub-frame/window 173 as shown in Figure 14H. When the user/viewer continues to "overview" the scrolling
